1949 FRUIT CROP THREATENED AS DROUGHT ENTERS 4th WEEK

At the time of writing many thousands of persons stand to be seriously effected by something over which no mortal man has the least control.

Not only will the farmer suffer from the devastating drought that is now well into its fourth week, but also the many other vocations in one way or another connected with the success or failure of the fruit crop-the bread and butter of a great percentage of Niagara Fruit Belt citizens.

Already an oft times boiling sun has cut short the strawberry crop, as Nature cannot cope with a situation without benefit of lifegiving rain. Estimates by men who know the statistics surrounding Niagara's strawberry crop vary anywhere from ten to twentyfive percent. This then has already affected the grower who has laboriously worked his land, hopeful of making that all-important spring

As the owner of a local farm equipment agency said. "Were it not for the lack of rain, those implements right there would have been sold." This then is how two persons already have lost because of the present drought.

Tree Fruit Prospects As most of us are aware an extremely heavy crop of tree fruits has been forecast for the summer of 1949. With the possible exception of sour cherries, and this crop is not general, most growers are preparing for one of the heaviest harvests in a number of years. Early peaches and plums are ex-(Continued on Page 10)

GRIMSBY SHOULD BE PROUD

(As dictated to a stenographer) Last week there came off the presses of The Independent a wonderful booklet, not so wonderful because "Little Dyke" and his staff turned it out, because they are accustomed to turning out high class jobs of printing, but wonderful because the actual producers of that booklet were Grimsby High school pupils, the sons and the daughters of you, Pa and Ma.

There is no doubt that "Little Dyke" and his staff and this writer are mighty proud of the booklet, from a typography standpoint, but that is our business. The real credit goes to Mrs. Johnston, a teacher on the school staff and the kids who produced the copy, the advertisements and the pictures. The photographic work, which was of a very high calibre was produced by John Millyard and Robert Alldrick. All told, it is a total Grimsby production.

This booklet which is the yearly book of Grimsby High is a great piece of work to all concerned and particularly to the editorial staff of "Studemus," the name of the book. Hours and hours and thousands of hours were put in jointly by the staff both in preparing very high quality editorial matter but in securing the great quantity of advertising which the book contains, and above all it was prepared in a fine manner and given to the printers on scheduled time, which was something remarkable in cases of this kind.

The book, 112 pages and a four page red cover printed in black ink, is without a doubt a wonderful achievement. I doubt if there is a High School in Canada or even a Collegiate Institute in that great Hogtown City of Toronto that has ever produced a booklet as large as this one and of such a high quality of material.

The Independent is very proud of this booklet and very proud of the kids who produced it. They have performed a remarkable job and the citizenry as a whole should be proud of them, as The Independent is.

The complete staft that compiled this booklet is as follows:

Special Events Editor-Eleanor Merritt. Business Managers-Donna Marsh and Donna Rahn.

Advertising Managers - Mary Morris, Ruth Clarke, Catherine Morrison. Photography - Robert Alldrick, John Millyard.

If our kids are being raised in the home and being taught in our schools to be smart enough to step out and talk "turkey" to advertisers and a tough printer like "Little Dyke" and sit down in front of a typewriter and produce the quality of reading matter which they produced then there is nothing wrong with our kids and nothing wrong with our High School system despite the fact that my old friend Tommy L. Dymond is still worrying over conditions.

I believe that the production of this booklet proves to all and sundry that there is not a thing wrong with our kids despite all the gossip mongers and trouble makers would like you to believe. Production is the proof of all good things and the kids have produced.

They did that the other night. Funny things happen in this world. I was standing in front of Millyard's Apthocary Shop the other afternoon talking to two very fine friends Hugh Campbell and Jack Puddicombe, when along comes my time honored friend Dr. Neil M. Leckie, and he asked me this question "how many pair of braces have you got" (meaning galluses, of course) and I replied "two." He then told the anecdote of a late President of the United States asking the members of his Congress that question and they all replied hat they only had one pair. Folks, I'm glad I had two pair for when I got home that night I discovered that one strap on the rear end had entirely broken off and the other strap was only hanging by a thread. If that thread had ever give loose on Main Street the death toll would have been terrible. Thanks, Doctor, pleased to have your futuristic advice at any time.

Resting myself on the Danny-Boy the other night when the Bin, Bong on the front portal Bine and Bonged. I let the portcullis down and opened the door and their stood beautiful Jan Graham McCallum and another sweet little girl. Jan handed me a package and said "some strawberries from Red Graham." I accepted the package and believe me they were wonderful berries. What has mysterfied me ever since is how Red has been able to feed the family on berries and still send some to me off that one berry plant that he has. Could it be that in the dead of the night he has been sneaking over into that great patch of berries that his next door neighbor Archie Chivers has and in a neighborly fashion purloining some? (By Percy Ghent, in The Toronto Telegram) Rosarians throughout the Americas look forward keenly every year to the All-America Rose Selections announcement. It tells of new roses which after six or more years of study in test gardens are found worthy of praise for their beauty, fragrance, sturdiness and charm. They are the "Oscar" winners of the rose world, and the hope of attaining this honor in recent years has stimulated the research of hybridizers so effectively, that many new rose varieties of radiant beauty have thrilled growers and brought glory to their gardens.

Selections that will be available for the gardens of 1950 have been proclaimed in picture and story in a number of horticultural magazines. Three of the four new roses are hybrid teas. Mission Bells is the pleasing name of one of them. Salmon-pink in color, its gracefully pointed buds are borne in abundance, and another garden gem seems assured. Rose-pink and fragrant, the second hybrid tea, Capistrano, features large well rounded flowers. Sutter's Gold, the third named, has a flowering time from June to late fall and will help to prolong rose enjoyment. Fashion, the floribunda of the chosen four, opens its buds of oriental red into wavy petals of coral tinged with gold. Attesting the popularity of the rose and the enthusiasm of the hybridizers is the fact that named varieties now number more than 16,000. Practically all of them have been established during the past 150 years. Before that time a noted horticulturist expressed surprise "that the rose, most beautiful ornament of our gardens, should be treated with so much indifference." To Josephine, Napoleon's first Empress. goes much credit for what has been termed so happily, the renaissance of the rose. Not only did she love flowers for their own sweet sake, but she had more than a smattering of scientific knowledge concerning their propagation and possibilities for improvement. In her garden at Malmaison all the named varieties of the day were assembled, and they numbered about 250.

Josephine sighed for a blue rose. Her dream was not realized, nor has it been yet. But the effort to produce it by her own gardeners and by the hybridizers of the day, stimulated research and marked the commencement of concentrated endeavors in mass hybridizing for the greater glory of the rose. Rose cultivation became a hobby of the Napoleonic aristocracy and financial aid was available for those working toward the creation of new varieties. One of these scientific growers. Andre Du Pont, seems to have been the originator of hand pollination. Of him, a worshipping contemporary wrote: "He is an enchanter who submits the rose to his magic wand, and forces it to undergo a beautiful transformation." From the time of Du Pont and his co-workers whose zeal and knowledge inspired others, the progress of rose cultivation acquired a momentum leading to triumphs in many lands.

France to this day maintains a proud standing in the world of roses. Any rosarian can recite a lengthy list of lovely examples originating there. But the joyous zest of scientific growers now flourishes around the globe. From the rich gardens of Europe, from the sunny slopes of California, from the JUNE ROSES OWE MUCH TO EMPRESS JOSEPHINE gardens of Canadian experts, new roses arrive one by one bringing beauty and fragrance to bless mankind.

Out in Vancouver the rose gardens of Stanley Park have become internationally famous. Suburban streets of Vancouver and Victoria where roses scale the walls and 12 Main St. E. reach the chimney tops present scenes of breath-taking loveliness. There are rose gardens in Toronto and in Old Ontario at large radiant with charm and color beyond words to convey. Happily, the most modest of backyard garden patches can share the glory of the rose. There are varieties brave and hardy that demand little of expert care or spoonfed coddling.

In the home garden here as we write there's a hybrid rugosa at the peak of its floral splendor. Twelve feet or so in height, its topmost blossoms have the foliage of its neighboring pear tree for background. There are hundreds of roses, yellow, double and fragrant adorning that bush as they have with equal abundance for nearly a score of years as June came to the garden. Agnes is the name of it, and Agnes, sturdy and pest free, is Canadian from root to blossom-a creation of the Government Experimental Farm at Ottawa.

Ontario's Rose Society, and the only one of its kind in Canada, has renewed publication of its Year Book discontinued through the years of war. It is full of information of value to rose growers and its rebirth is welcome indeed. One article by editor Webster deals with rose fragrance. Modern roses, it is commonly deplored, have little or no appeal for the nose. Mr. Webster believes the complaint is often ill-founded. Not modern roses but modern folk, he suggests, might be at fault. They don't get up early enough. Fragrance at its best is enjoyed in the cool, dewy moments of early morn, before the sun has diffused the scent-producing oils into the BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC.

This sounds like a logical argument. We must arise early some bright morning and

COMMUNITY RECREATIONAL COUNCIL Grimsby is going to have a Recreational

Council. You have probably seen it in the paper and heard it talked over along Main St. during the last week or so. By the time that this appears, the town council will no doubt have passed the by-law which will officially appoint the council and thus inaugurate in Grimsby one of the most worthy projects yet undertaken in the town.

In recent years, the local Lion's Club has been doing something during the winter for the younger boys of the town by means of their midget hockey league but until now there has been very little done in the way of summer recreation. This summer, however, is the time when the children are out of school and hence is the time when they find idle hours to get into trouble. A group of local men began to investigate the possibility of hiring a Recreational Director who could organize a summer sport's programme. During the course of their inquiries they discovered that if the town council appointed a Recreational Council it would be eligible for grants from the Dept. of Education which would greatly increase the scope of the work which could be done. As a result the movement toward the council was started.

It is to be a co-operative effort. The Lions Club, which for some time has cher-ment, provided the original impetus and at once went to the Optimists who had already made plans for a programme of their own. The common purpose of the two brought the two organizations into amicable agreement at once and it was decided that they would work together. As well as the Lions and the Optimists, other interested organizations will receive representation on the seven man council. These will include the town council and several of the youth organizations.

"The Central Ontario District of the Community Programmes Branch of the Department of Education," is the official title of the body which is to provide the financial aid. It will also supply expert advice to the Recreational Director in order that he may compile a programme suitable to the conditions and equipment available to him. From the above brief sketch it can be seen that although the movement is new it is not a minor one nor is it without support. The organizations mentioned are, or seem to be, solidly behind the idea and for good rea-

MANY MEN OF GREAT ABILITY IN CONSERVATIVE PARTY

A score of able and experienced public men are taking part in the campaign on the Conservative side and from amongst their number, if the electors give him the opportunity, George Drew will be able to form a strong and capable cabinet. It is impossible in a single article to name them, all and outline their public service, but three of Mr. Drew's chief lieutenants deserve special mention here. They are John G. Diefenbaker, J. M. Macdonnell and Gordon Graydon. All were members in the twentieth parliament.

Mr. Diefenbaker was first elected to parliament in 1940 and rapidly established a reputation as the ablest debater on the Opposition side of the chamber. His indefatigible labors in the Commons during the war years, examining and debating the government's policies cannot be forgotten. He not only earned the attention but also the respect of all the parties as a sincere and patriotic man seeking to serve his country. More than anyone he brought to the attention of the country the dictatorial methods of the ministry and its habit of governing by order-incouncil. He has been a champion of the rights of individuals and minorities and was the first to urge the adoption of a bill of rights. Because of Mr. Diefenbaker's legal attainments he has frequently been mentioned as a suitable choice for the portfolio of Justice. . . . .

High in the counsels of the party stands

J. M. Macdonnell who represented Muskoka-Ontario in the twentieth parliament. Before entering political life Mr. Macdonnell was the general manager of a large trust company and his experience in finance qualified him for the post of Opposition critic. In a Conservative government he would almost certainly be chosen for the portfolio of Finance, where his practical knowledge of business affairs would replace the impractical theories of the present Finance Minister and his "brain trust."

Mr. Gravdon has been in Parliament since 1935. He was Opposition leader from 1942 to 1945 and has been a Canadian delegate to several sessions of the United Nations. Mr. Graydon has specialized in international affairs and in a Conservative cabinet would probably be selected as Minister for External Relations.

These three men-Diefenbaker, Macdonnell and Graydon-are well known to the Canadian people. Their lengthy connection with Parliament has given them a valuable insight into the methods of government. They have faith in Canada and they believe the welfare and security of the people can best be furthered under the free enterprise system as interpreted in the Progressive Conservative party's platform.

FACTS FOR FARMERS

Many of you will remember the sudden and disastrous collapse in the prices of all farm products immediately after the first world war. Because the Government of that day-AND IT WAS NOT

A LIBERAL GOVERNMENT-had no wartime stabilization policy, prices of some products jumped beyond all reason. Then the war ended-there was the inevitable crash-and all farm incomes and values slumped badly. The farmers of this Country were in a bad way. Nothing like that has happened as a result of the second World War. For that happy condition of affairs

-for the continuing prosperity of the farmers-they can thank the Liberal Government. Here are the simple facts of the case.

It's the dollars you earn on your investment-on your toil that count-here they are-sufficient proof that under the wise policies of Liberalism-Farmers are Prosperous.

For Those With a Long Memory

Now Look at These

Figures---Proof of Prosperity

Cash Farm Income 1932 $124,400,000 CASH FARM INCOME 1948 $668,000,000 Net Farm Income 1938 $128,250,000 NET FARM INCOME 1948 $447,200,000

AGRICULTURAL PRICES SUPPORT ACT

In 1943 and 1944, The Canadian Federation of Agriculture put forward the view that because prices of farm products had been brought under a price ceiling to prevent inflation during the war, the Government should provide for a floor price in the post-war period to safeguard the farmers against losses should there be substantial prices reductions. The Government readily agreed to that proposal. It made a definite commitment to the farmers of Canada to support farm prices in the event of abnormal surpluses causing price reductions, and to prevent prices going below the levels which would have meant losses to the farmers. To stabilize prices—to guarantee fair returns to all the farmers of Canada the Government introduced the Agricultural Prices Support Act with a fund of $200,000,000 at its disposal. This means that the farmers of this country have absolute protection against any slump in prices, and their income will be kept at a level which will enable them to maintain their standard of living. Here again is Liberalism in Action for the Farmers and the people of this country.

TAX REFORMS

Income tax exemptions will be raised to $1,250 for single persons and to $2,500 for married people. Allowances for dependent children will be increased by $200. The present heavy sales tax, which cuts the purchasing value of the dollar by more than the tax, will be sharply reduced. All unnecessary nuisance taxes will be abolished.

We will ensure stability of income to farmers by the enactment of permanent floor price legislation. We will incorporate into the Farm Prices Support Act a definite formula for arriving at floor prices, to be set only after consultation with representatives of producers. Floor prices will always be announced well in advance of the production period.

SMALL BUSINESS

With sky-high taxes owners of small businesses have been left with far too little of their profits to carry out desirable programs of expansion. We will grant exemptions to private business where profits are re-invested in enterprise and expansion. We will also encourage business in general by allowing the Canadian dollar to find its own level.

BETTER SOCIAL SECURITY

We will make available to every Canadian by a "Contributory Social Security Program; Retirement Pensions at 65 without a Means test; sickness and disability benefits: extended un-employment insurance benefits with payment for lost time, due to accidents or sickness.

The development of our country during passing years saw the faith of the people justified. A greater growth of religious feeling and Christian service was evidenced by organized denominations building church edifices to house both congregation and Sunday School.

So it was in Grimsby . . . . with the consummation of Church Union in 1925, Trinity United Church, formed from the congregations of St. John's Presbyterian Church and Central Methodist Church, made important decisions and plans, that the new Church might grow in usefulness, and expand the work of Christ and His Kingdom, St. John's became the House of Worship while Central was remodelled to be, come the Church Hall and Sunday School building, known as Trinity

To-day we are accepting greater responsibilities and challenges in Christian faith presented by an increased membership in both church and school, along with an active growing community.

A petition was received from in regard to the practice of Mr. Hugh Cole of keeping his dump trucks and equipment on a lot across from his home. Mr. Herman Terry, the Sanitary Inspector, was questioned as to the regulations of the Dept. of Health in such a case. Mr. Terry stated that, unless there was some deposition lot, there was no regulation to reaction if this proved necessaary.

The whole question led to th discussion of another matteer , when Councillor Bartlett took thee floor.

Reeve Aikens pointed out that the council did not have the power to divide its area of authority into zones, that all regulations must apply to the township as a whole. The township he said could not be classed as a residential area.

Mr. Cole affirmed his intention of improving the lot and making an attractive business location of it and on the strength of this the council passed a motion agreeing to do nothing.

A letter from the Dept. of Lands and Forests was read offering to send the usual number of Pheasants to the district to be released. The offer was accepted with the in the vicinity of 150. Dep. The following correspondence was dealf with: A notice fron the Niagara District Indigent Funrals Association to the effect that the rate for indigent funerals ws to be raised to $100; a notice from the Dept. of Lands and Frests that Beamer Memorial Par could be declared a game preerve (andd flower) without permission from that Dept. since it was on private property; a letter from the Dept. of Municipal Affairs reminded council that a school for civic officials is to be held in St. Catharines for one day on June 28th.

An adding machine was purchased by council for the price of $275.00 to be paid by the Roads Committee. The bylaw appointing James Beamer of Grimsby as Road Superintendent was read the required three times and passed. Outstanding accounts were paid and it was agreed that the council should meet with the Grimsby Water Commission in regard to the water rates.

With Frank Bouk on the mound for the Kings and Baker working the hill for the Creek, the contest was well played throughout, and a large crowd enjoyed the full nine innings. The winners scored two in the second and added a single in the third, before the Kings bounced back with a three run rally in the fourth to tie the score. Bobby Neal scored the tie-breaker in the sixth, but Cy Pegg's homer with one on gave the Creek a one run lead in the seventh. The eighth was scoreless, but in the top half of the ninth, the Creekers got to Bouk for four runs which appeared to be sufficient to salt the game away. Trailing by five runs, Bentley was first up and struck out, then Warren got on base via the error route, which started the parade which loaded the bases. Hits by Holder, Robertson, Neal and Mason scored four important runs, but the rally died with the Kings seeking the equalizer as Bouk popped out to first.

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of office workers to become pro-ficient in typing, filing, shorthand and secretarial work, will mean greater business efficiency-will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

Soap Box Derbys are by no means a new idea, you can obtain some idea of how long they have been in operation in the United States by taking a look at the above photo. It's old No. 7, the prototype of all Derby cars, and the car which is used as a symbol on the official Derby emblem, is shown here as driven by its builder, Robert Gravett, of Dayton, Ohio, in the 1933 race. Gravett, a Dayton businessman is shown in inset as he is to-day. Six local boys are at present working like beavers in order to have their racers finished by the end of this month. Already one boy has experimented and is at present nursing asorted bruises and cuts when something went wrong. The Optimist Derby councillors have expressed amazement at the real genius shown by the Grimsby lads who will attempt to bring a winner back to Grimsby when the St. Catharines Soap Box Derby is held on July 16.

YOUR FUTURE : : : AND CANADA'S

Conditions have been good the last few years. More people are working than ever before — making more, spending more, saving more.

Isn't that what you want? After all, you have a family to think about ::: and you are planning for their future . . .

The Liberals are planning and working for your family's future too. Here are some of the things the Liberals are doing:

Family Allowances are increased. Already a billion dollars has been invested in Canada's children. Millions of boys and girls are better clothed, fed and housed — have a better chance for an education and a real start in life - because of this Liberal measure. It has brought new security and well-being to countless Canadian homes.

In housing, too, the Liberals have taken the lead in providing Canadians with decent homes. More homes have been built in Canada, in relation to population, than in any nation. Already a million Canadians live in homes built since the war. The liberal government is ready to help solve the low-rental housing problem and has offered its cooperation to provinces and municipalities.

Then, there is the Liberal health program. Already federal grants are helping the provinces to increase their health services. But the Liberals' aim is a nation-wide contributory health insurance plan which will end, for everyone, the tragedy of inadequate health care and the financial strain of lengthy illness.

Or take employment. Liberal measures are helping to maintain employment in Canada at record levels, and at the same time unemployment insurance reserves have been building up. The government has encouraged enterprise and high production. Plants have expanded, new industries started up. New opportunities are being created every day.

Old Age Pensions and pensions for the blind have been steadily increased by the Liberal government. But it isn't stopping there. Its aim is a nation-wide plan of contributory pensions which will help everyone to enjoy a comfortable and secure old age — automatically and as a right.

These are all part of the Liberal program of social betterment . . . a program to achieve a "national standard of social security and human welfare which assures the greatest possible measure of social justice to all athlete, he decided, and he proceed- galaxy. His performances are in interest in sports.

Leaving Europe for Canada and "truly beautiful singing." then moving on to the United States with his family, Novis held on to his interest in athletics. Along with his love for sports, he had a great love for music, and his voice-even when he was quite young-was filled with musical charm. His friends and neighbors often encouraged him to sing his pleasurable interpretations of old Irish ditties and ballads. And their ovations lightened the young and enthusiastic heart of Donald Novis.

Donald completed his high school education and entered Whittier College in California, from which he was graduated with a degree in physical education. The next few years he devoted to a variety of athletic activities. He boxed for three years, engaged in many swimming competitions, and took part in sports of every description. As a result of his activities, Novis has won many prizes and compet!tion cups, has held the national prep swimming record for the quarter-mile swim for two years. and was recently voted the best all-around athlete in show bus-

Donald made his professional entrance into the show world in an off-hand manner. Although his friends repeatedly urged him to forge a career with his singing ability, he took no more action in this direction than to sing in the glee club at school, and on radio while he was yet a high school student in Pasadena. That is, until his friends descended on him en masse one day, years later, and almost had to resort to violence to persuade Donald to enter a radio audition contest, in which a total of 63,000 contestants participated.

Unenthused about the prospects of a singing career Donald was startled to hear that he had won the radio contest, which obtained for him a prize of $6000 and a radto contract with the National Broadcasting Company. And with the announcement of this prize, America was opportuned the talents of one of the outstanding singers of the nation.

Since the debut of Donald Novis on his NBC radio program, he has been the center of national acclaim for his inimitable vocal .presentations on radio, screen and stage. Offering sparkling renditions of old Irish tunes, currently popular and undying standard songs, Mr. Novis has received the unmitigated plaudits of both critics and audiences from New York to Holly-

At the Blackamoor Room in Miami Beach, Detroit's Statler Hotel, the Paramount Theater in New York (where he broke all records with 26 consecutive weeks), the St. Charles in New Orleans, the Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles (where he remained for 18 sensational months), the Drake Hotel in Chicago, the Warfield Theater in San Francisco, and at New York's State, Capitol and Roxy Theaters. Donald Novis earned for himself a distinctive reputation as a splendid musical artist.

On the screen, he extended his fine reputation with appearances in "The Big Broadcast" with Bing Crosby for Paramount; Universal's "Slightly Terrific," with Leon Errol; "One Hour With You" with Jeannette McDonald for Paramount; "Sweethearts of U.S.A." for Monogram; and "Bull-dog Drummond" with Ronald Colman for United Artists. He has been repeatedly recalled time after time on many programs—including "Fibber McGee and Molly" (on which he appeared for two years), the Jimmy Durante Texaco program, "Battle of the Tenors" with Morton Downey for Woodbury Soap, and the Lucky Strike showand was staff singer for NBC for seven years. Entering still another field of entertainment, Donald Novis starred in Billy Rose's "Jumbo" with Paul Whiteman and Jimmy Durante on the Broadway stage. His recordings for Victor, Decca. and Brunswick are all-time favorites. Among his most popular numbers are "Trees," "Sweet and Lovely." "Always," "I Surrender, Dear," "Diane," and his splendid Irish tunes, "Toora Loora," "Mollie Malone," and the Irish jig number, "Phil the Fluter's Ball."

In a remarkably short time, DonaldNovis achieved a rare degree of vocal fame. His name was everywhere accepted as the para-

Look, Brydon, things have not changed. Much. Nowadays if this thing cropped up, this is what is likely to transpire. A lady and her sweet little ole' innocent daughter board a bus to go to the city and see the high buildings. But when they enter the bus the lady discovers to her horror that she has no money. "What will I do?" she exclaims with eyes wide and an expression that reeks of grade C movies. The driver, never one to miss a bet, notes that sweet little ole' innocent, is a pretty slick chick, and realizing that gallantry is not dead, and so tells 'em to never fear, mother, we shall convey you and your sweet little ole' innocent to the big city . . . free gratis.

And so the bus docks midst the hustle of city noises and the mother and her sweet little ole' innocent wander off, while the driver checks in his slightly depleted fares.

Later on our hero is walking home to his ever lovin' when he decides to drop into one of the chrome and glass and parake of some nourishing stimular. He is about to part the lips, when he suddenly spots two fam ar characters, mother and her weet little ole 'innocent. #### "CIVIC IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE"

The duties of the Civic Improvement Committee of the Lions Club are too numerous to mention in detail, but in general they are as the name implies to improve our community, and make it a better place in which to live.

About a year ago the Club erected a grandstand at the public school grounds which cost about $2,300.00. This grandstand was badly needed, as for years people attending the games had to stand. Now they can sit in the stand and watch the game

Early this Spring the Club secured permission to clean up the property west of the Forty Creek and opposite Hewson's. For years this has been waste space and had grown into a "jungle." The Lions have cleaned this up and are now developing this property for use as a Park. Already over 300 truck loads of earth have been used for fill and the work of filling and grading is continuing. In a year's time this will be a place of beauty instead of an eye-sore.

All of these projects cost money which the Club must make. In supporting our Carnival, the money you spend will be put to good use.

The Lions Club Carnival Is Their Annual Appeal For Funds To Continue This Worthy Work.
